

Grade 8 BOOK PROJECT

It is time again to get creative! Complete the following projects.

Body Biography: “A body biography “ communicates all the important information about who a character is. By using images, words, and symbols, you can create a clearer picture of a character’s appearance, personality, situation, and goals

1. Choose a character from your Story Book who is integral to the novel. Think about how that character reflects the author’s purpose. Sketch a large figure (one that fills a sheet of poster board) to represent that character. Draw the character’s physical features and clothing.

2. Use words, phrases, and sentences from the text to convey information about the character’s traits. Include reason why you chose to use these words and symbols to describe the character.

Your body biography should include the following:

- a. A drawing that shows your character’s physical features
 - b .Words and symbols that convey unique and clear character traits
 - c .Evidence and reasons that support your choice
3. Your project must communicate information such as one character’s point of view, irony, the mood of the story, an important change in plot, or the theme.
4. How has this story you have read affected your life?
5. Write a complete summary of your story.
